

I applied last year but withdrew, how do I reapply?

If you have previously applied to NMIT and chose to not continue your application for any reason then we will have closed it and it is no longer active.

If you would like to now apply again for the same or another programme then simply start a new application and select the location and intake relevant to your preferred study.

If you Sign in to My NMIT you will be able to view your previous application and its' status.
