

Writing a literature review

The following videos may be useful in providing some tips on:

What is a literature review - David Taylor, University of Maryland University College

Using themes when writing a literature review, i.e. synthesizing the information - Dr Nathalie Sheridan

A good way to understand what a literature review is, is to look at other literature reviews. You can find literature reviews via our research databases. For more support in finding scholarly articles for your literature review and/or writing a literature review, get in touch to see a learning facilitator.