PURPOSE

To ensure international students are informed of the process to request special leave during their studies.

SCOPE

NMIT is committed to ensure students are able to successfully complete their programme of study within the enrolment period specified in their Offer Documents.

NMIT acknowledges that situations may arise where a student needs to request special leave which may result in a break in their studies.

Situations requiring special leave include (but are not limited to):

- Pregnancy - return to home country or remain in New Zealand to give birth
- Bereavement - return home to arrange/attend funeral
- Medical - recuperation from an accident/incident
- Marriage ceremony

DEFINITIONS

Course	A course may be known as a paper, module or unit standard. A course is related to an enrolment event. A defined course or collection of courses forms a Programme of Study, which, if completed successfully, results in the award of a Qualification. [TANZ definition]
Curriculum Area Manager	Person responsible for the academic delivery for a group of programmes. The Curriculum Manager reports directly to the Curriculum Director.
International Enrolments Administrator	The administrator associated with the Information and Enrolments Centre Team who reports directly to the Information and Enrolments Centre Manager.
Information and Enrolments Centre (IEC)	The Information and Enrolments Centre provides centralised processing for applications, enrolment, re-enrolment, withdrawals, transfers and refunds for domestic and international students as well as providing accurate and timely student data management and reporting.
Information and Enrolments Centre Manager	Manages the Information and Enrolment Centre and reports to a Director.
Programme	One or more courses, usually leading to an award (certificate, diploma, degree, graduate diploma, postgraduate diploma) that has been approved by the Academic Board and, if required, by the relevant external approval/accreditation body. Also referred to as a 'Programme of Study'.
Programme Coordinator	Person responsible for the operational activities linked to a programme area within a department. For example, Hairdressing. The coordinator reports directly to the Curriculum Manager.
Student	A person enrolled in one or more course(s) at an institute. [def. TANZ]

DEFERRING STUDIES

A special leave request may affect the student's studies. The student must discuss their study options in advance with the Curriculum Manager or Programme Co-ordinator (in the Curriculum Manager's absence) to ensure they understand what is required to successfully complete their qualification. Refer to Programme Regulations for specific course and programme completion requirements.

In the event of a student not completing a course/s due to having taken special leave, the student will be required to re-enrol on the course/s at their own cost.

Courses are run subject to having sufficient enrolments.

The next available intake of the course the student needs to repeat may be delivered beyond the expiry date of the Student Visa. In this instance, students will be required to apply for a further Student Visa at their own cost.

AMOUNT OF LEAVE ALLOWED

NMIT may allow students a maximum of one calendar month special leave at one time without affecting their current Student Visa. NMIT does not expect students to require more than one period of Special Leave in each 12-month period. If a student finds themselves in a situation where they need another period of Special Leave during the same time period, then they need to discuss their situation with the Curriculum Manager. In exceptional circumstances a second period of Special Leave may be considered. NMIT will consult with Immigration New Zealand regarding this.

All students applying for special leave will sign a privacy waiver allowing NMIT to obtain travel movements from Immigration New Zealand relating to the period of special leave.

Students who require more than one month of leave from their studies are in a position where it is highly unlikely they will be successful in completing their programme/qualification. Furthermore, the student would not be meeting the requirements and conditions of their Student Visa. Therefore, NMIT will have no option but to terminate the student's enrolment and advise Immigration New Zealand. Students can choose to withdraw from their studies if they find themselves in a position where it is highly unlikely they will be successful in completing their programme/qualification.

If the enrolment is terminated and the student wants to resume their studies at a later date, they will have to apply for another Student Visa and pay to repeat courses at their own cost. There is no guarantee that the visa will be approved.

APPENDICES

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)
Application for Special Leave Form

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Under what circumstances would my special leave request be declined?

Unsatisfactory attendance and/or progress.

What happens if I take special leave without prior approval?

All Special Leave needs to be applied for before taking leave. If the student leaves without prior approval, this is likely to result in termination of enrolment. NMIT will then liaise with Immigration New Zealand and advise that the student visa is no longer valid.

My student visa will expire when I'm on leave. Can I renew before I go?

NMIT can assist with visa renewals if your visa is due to expire one month before you go on leave. You can renew your student visa yourself via Immigration Online when you return to your home country. The link is: <https://www.immigration.govt.nz/new-zealand-visas/apply-for-a-visa>. Before you leave, please ensure you have all the copies of your Offer and Receipt Documents.

My student visa has been terminated because my leave is more than one calendar month, how do I reapply for another student visa?

You can apply for another student visa via Immigration Online. The link is: <https://www.immigration.govt.nz/new-zealand-visas/apply-for-a-visa>. Before you leave, please ensure you have all the copies of your Offer and Receipt Documents.

Can my partner (and dependants) stay in New Zealand while I go home?

Generally, no. Not if the visa of your partner and dependants are dependent on your student visa. Immigration New Zealand requires your partner (and dependants) to leave with you as their visas are linked to you studying. There may be some exceptions to this; such as if you need a very short trip home for bereavement, but this is at the discretion of Immigration New Zealand.

Can I continue to study while I'm on leave?

No. You must be in New Zealand to study your programme.

Does NMIT's International Student Insurance Policy cover maternity services?

No. There is no upgrade available on the insurance policy that NMIT provides the students.

Is there another New Zealand insurance company whose policy will cover the maternity services for international students?

It is unlikely that any insurer in New Zealand will offer this to an international as private insurance is only available for New Zealand residents.

What will happen if I have to return later than expected and I don't notify NMIT?

If you do not return by the date you indicated, and you do not contact NMIT to discuss, then NMIT will terminate your enrolment and advise Immigration New Zealand.

If I decide not to return to my studies, can I apply for a partial refund?

No, once you have started your studies, you are not eligible for a refund. Refer to the 'International Student Refund Eligibility Table' from the Fees, Charges and Refunds (International Students) policy.

Can I request more than one calendar month of leave and resume my studies at a later date?

Yes, provided you have been granted permission by the Curriculum Manager to complete your programme at a later date and by the Executive Director: Programmes and Delivery for fees to be held for a maximum of one year. Please refer to your Programme Regulations as there will be a specified period when you are required to complete your qualification from your initial enrolment on the programme. In terms of your student visa, NMIT will notify Immigration New Zealand that you have ceased studying and intend to resume study at a later date. If you are in New Zealand, you will need to apply for another type of visa as your student visa will be no longer valid. You must apply for another student visa once you are ready to resume studying; however, there is no guarantee that a student visa will be approved.

Does Immigration New Zealand have information on pregnant students?

Yes, Immigration New Zealand provides information on maternity services for students who are pregnant or become pregnant while studying at NMIT. For further information, please refer to this link:

<https://www.immigration.govt.nz/new-zealand-visas/apply-for-a-visa/tools-and-information/general-information/pregnant-applicants>.

I think I need someone to talk to about my personal situation. Who can I see?

NMIT provides counselling services to students who need support to help them through their personal situation. Please contact internationalsupport@nmit.ac.nz or SANITI for further information.
