

Can I drive after drinking alcohol?

Rachel Rees - 2022-01-12 - Living in New Zealand

Don't drink or use drugs and then drive - the laws against this are strictly enforced in New Zealand and the penalties are severe.

- For drivers under 20 years old, there is a zero alcohol limit. This means you are not entitled to drive if there is any alcohol in your blood or breath.
- For drivers over 20, see the New Zealand Police Website for current alcohol limits.
