

Do people drink alcohol in New Zealand?

New Zealand has a drinking culture, but it is fine to have a non-alcoholic drink when you are socialising. The legal age for buying alcohol in New Zealand is 18 years. There are strict rules against providing alcohol for people under that age.

<!--