

Knowledgebase > Current students > Student support > Study and learning > I'm the first in my whānau to study and the pressure is getting to me. Who can I kōrero with?

I'm the first in my whānau to study and the pressure is getting to me. Who can I kōrero with?

Rachel Rees - 2020-01-14 - Study and learning

Visit or phone the Library Learning Centre and ask to connect with a Cultural Advisor. Your advisor will provide support, advice and encouragement wherever possible. This is available through face-to-face appointments or by Skype or telephone.

Related Content

- How can Learner Services help me?