

Why do international students pay higher fees?

We are funded partly by the New Zealand government and partly from fees paid by students. Programme and course costs for New Zealand citizens and residents are subsidised by the New Zealand government. This subsidy also applies to Australian students because of agreements that exist between the New Zealand and Australian governments. Students from other countries choosing to study in New Zealand are charged a full fee.

<!--