

If I get Recognition of Academic Credit approved, will it impact on my loans and allowances?

Sarah Ryder - 2016-05-24 - Recognition of previous study

If you get Recognition of Academic Credit approved for a course, you do not have to be enrolled on that course. That means the number of EFTS you are enrolled for decreases. If you are enrolled in less than 0.8 EFTS, you may not be entitled to a student allowance because you will not be classified as studying full-time. Your Programme Area can advise further.

Tags

Course fees

Student allowance

Student loan

Related Content

- Will I be able to get a student loan?
- Will I be able to get a student allowance?
- How do I pay my fees or other charges?
- Can I pay my fees in instalments?
- When do I need to pay my course fees?
- Can I apply for Recognition of Academic Credit if my previous study was overseas?
- How do student loans work?
- Who do I talk to about student loans and allowances?